The professors are very knowledgeable and approachable. They are always willing to help and truly want the best for every student. I have also been able to get amazing hands-on experience in the school counseling role that has proven to be invaluable.

PURPOSE OF PROGRAM
The Master of Education in School Counseling program prepares multicultural competent, professional school counselors. This degree program is nationally accredited through the Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educations Programs (CACREP). Program graduates will demonstrate the necessary knowledge, skills, identity and scholarship for a successful school counseling career. Graduates will apply the competencies acquired in the program to the diverse, multicultural populations they serve.

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES
A variety of career opportunities are available upon graduation and state certification in education, non-profit, private, state and federal sectors. These opportunities may include elementary, middle and high school counselor positions; at-risk specialty counseling positions, compensatory, special education and other school district identified areas of need; and guidance and counseling coordinator or director positions (with advanced supervision/administration training). The average salary for students completing this degree is $57,040.

PROGRAM OPTIONS
The 48-semester credit hour program offers advanced study and professional development in the field of school counseling. Once admitted to the program, students must also complete a separate state application to the School Counselor Certification Program. To receive state certification as a professional school counselor, students must: Complete the master's degree program, pass the required School Counselor Certification Exam, AND complete two years of teaching experience before certification is conferred.

The Counseling Department and the UTSA Sarabia Family counseling Center are conveniently located at the UTSA Downtown Campus, offering graduate students easy access to their coursework, resources and faculty. Students who attend part time (6 hours each semester) complete the program in 3 years on average.
